November 2000
Website: jjphoa.org

News from the city

The City of Richardson shares information and solicits information from the Homeowners Associations each month. We'll be sharing that information via the newsletter. Sometimes the information comes at us at a rapid pace, but we'll try to take good notes and get it right.

Galatyn Park development is progressing well and is actually much larger than it appears from the roadways. You are invited to drive through the area northeast of Campbell and Central and see how the area is developing. The performing arts center should be able to handle 4,000-5,000 people when it is completed. The DART stop will be the end of line until about 2003. After that it will be extended to Plano. DART is meeting all of its commitments to Richardson.

Sherrill Park Golf Course #2 will be remodeled between November, 2000 and October 2001. The same firm that did Course #1 will do the remodeling. Course #2 is an example of Conservation and reuse in action. It is built upon an old landfill.

There will be a number of left turn lane improvements installed in the next five months at various intersections on the east side of the city.

The Clarion Hotel at Campbell and Central will be remodeled and then be renamed a Radisson. It will offer the community another quality restaurant as well.

Richardson is joined by many of the other major cities in Texas in favoring red light monitoring to improve the safety of all of our citizens and reduce the number of accidents, injuries and fatalities caused by red light runners.

Another variety of wildflower is being planted along Central Expressway and elsewhere in the city to provide color throughout the year. Next year's Wildflower Festival will be held in May to reduce the chances of rain during the festival.

Cool, clear water

The earth's total allotment of water has a volume of about 344 million cubic miles. Of this:

- 315 million cubic miles (93%) is seawater!
- 9 million cubic miles (2.5%) is in aquifers deep below the earth's surface.
- 7 million cubic miles (2%) is frozen in polar ice caps.
- 53,000 cubic miles of water pass through the planet's lakes and streams.
- 4,000 cubic miles of water is in atmospheric moisture.
- 3,400 cubic miles of water are locked within the bodies of living things.

If all the world's water could fit into a gallon jug, the fresh water available for us to use would equal only about one tablespoon.

The overall amount of water on our planet has remained the same for two billion years. The United States consumes water at twice the rate of other industrialized nations.

In Richardson we're fortunate that we have had an adequate supply of water throughout the drought of the last three or four years. Providing us adequate water didn't happen accidentally and it didn't happen through short term planning. Getting a new source of water online can take 30 years or more! Richardson's first municipal water and sewer systems were completed in 1926. We've grown a lot since then. Today our water is supplied by the North Texas Municipal Water District. NTMWD serves about 960,000 residents in Richardson and 11 other suburbs of Dallas. We're projected to grow from 960,000 to about 2,600,000 over the next 50 years. Think it's time to start saving water in your empty containers?

NTMWD has to plan for this growth and they are actively doing just that. Of course that growth won't occur overnight one night in November, 2050. It will occur over time, sometimes in leaps and bounds, and sometimes more steadily. No matter how it occurs, when we turn the faucet or flush the toilet we expect water to flow, and we expect that water to be clean and pure.

Our main source of water today is Lake Lavon, which can provide up to 100 million gallons a day! Sometimes that isn't enough. Our second source of water is Lake Texoma, and our third source is Lake Cooper. Lake Cooper is our newest source and took 30 years to develop.

But we're going to need water for more than 1 ½ million more of our children, grandchildren and Texas wanna-be's. Where will it come from? We may be able to buy some water from Oklahoma. NTMWD is working with neighboring water districts on a proposal to develop a new lake in northeast Texas that could supply an additional 600 million gallons a day, but it could take another 30 years to complete development.

NMTWD also manages to reclaim a significant amount of water providing us with up to 32 million gallons a day. With judicious use of resources, an eye on the environment and real long term planning, we should have an adequate supply of water for many, many years to come. Of course wise use of water on your part helps too.

Water, Water Everywhere

One of our members asked about the frequency of water line repairs in the J. J. Pearce Addition and how we compare to other parts of the city. We thought everyone would be interested to know how these things are monitored and what the plans are for our area.

All pipes are subject to breakage from ground shifting if enough pressure is applied, and some materials are subject to corrosion. In selecting materials the city balances the durability of the material, the costs of the materials, and the cost of installation and maintenance. The current water lines in our area, installed when the Addition was first built over 20 years ago, are cast iron. While cast iron is strong it is subject to both corrosion and breakage. Today the city uses water lines made of PVC which doesn't suffer from corrosion while remaining resistant to breakage.

Preventive maintenance is an integral part of the Public Services Department's program to provide quality service at an affordable cost. The preventive maintenance program replaces water lines on streets that have become problem areas. Public Services tracks and maps every water line repair. They also maintain a database that provides statistics on breakage within an area. This statistical database makes it easy to prioritize preventive repairs and to make the best use of resources. The list is reviewed and prioritized monthly. Of course the size of the city crew and the number of preventive maintenance repairs that can be made annually are limited by the capital budget.

Approximately 3,100 feet of water lines can be repaired each year, in addition to emergency repairs. For replacements up to about 300 feet long and which can be completed in three weeks or less, city crews perform the work. If larger repairs are required the work is contracted out.

At the present time the 1300-1400 block of Chesterton and the 1100-1300 block of Huntington are scheduled for water line replacement in fiscal year 2003 (Richardson's fiscal year 2003 begins in October 2002). The 1100 block of Stratford is a little further down the priority list and cannot be scheduled at this time. Since problems are monitored continuously and priorities are adjusted monthly, these time frames may change. If any of our water lines start to require more frequent repairs they will be replaced sooner. If other streets show more rapid deterioration we may see replacements in our area postponed to match the updated priorities. The goal is to always provide everyone with safe, clean drinking water and to minimize the cost of repairs throughout our city.

If you have questions about your specific address you can contact Frank Borosi at Richardson Public Services, 972-744-4438. Our thanks to the entire staff for sharing this information and for their efforts to spend our money wisely and effectively.

J.J. Pearce First Annual Veteran's Day Celebration at High School

My wife Avalyn and I have just returned from a reunion of old buddies from my four-years of service in the USAF Security Service, 1952-1955.

For me, this period was a time of being far from home, of experiencing a completely different way of living, of performing a job that was so secret I could not share it with anyone, of associating daily with a group of strangers that became life-long friends, and of growing up and seeing the world. I served willingly, patriotically, and with pride in the part that I was trained to play. However, by the luck of duty assignments, I never set foot in a theater of war and have therefore never considered myself a "veteran."

In our retirement years, Avalyn and I are blessed to live in a neighborhood where you can know your neighbors, have a high school to root for, and join a grass root art, service, or political group. This Millennium Year, the J.J. Pearce High School near our home decided to hold a celebration for Veteran's Day. My friend and neighbor, Art Middlebrook, invited me to go or I would probably not have attended-for I'm not really a veteran you see.

When we walked into the high school at 9 AM my sentiments changed. Students and faculty were everywhere, dressed in school colors, greeting and registering us, handing out programs, serving coffee and cake. It suddenly hit me-the reason for me to be here was that these students had planned the program and invited me. This generation, that has not yet been called to military service, picked Veteran's Day for a school service project; it was a nice feeling.

This was our neighborhood, and Art and I found both new and familiar faces among the guests. We all shook hands and visited, many sharing their service experiences for the first time. Some commented they came because it was a group of students that invited them. We didn't so much want to be honored as to confirm that these students understood that we had served our country with pride, and would serve again if called upon. We also wanted them to know that if they are, God forbid, ever called upon to go to war, we would honor and support them.

The program was presented in the gymnasium, with veterans and their families sitting together. The colors were presented by a Marine color guard, the Mustang band played. The J.J. Pearce Chorus sang a medley of patriotic songs. The Superintendent of Schools spoke briefly and then introduced the featured speaker, Congressman Sam Johnson. Sam Johnson is a true American hero. He flew combat missions in both Korea and Vietnam, was shot down over Vietnam and survived seven years as a prisoner of war. He spoke briefly about his military service and shoot-down in Vietnam. His remarks were matter-of-fact, implying that others had served equally well but lost their lives, and that he considered his survival a call to continue to serve his country. I noticed that most students really listened to his remarks.

Yes, I admit I was surprised at the student's selecting this project, at their interest in us, and their plans to continue the event, annually! (We were told they had sacrificed an important pep rally to hold it.) Art and I walked home on a beautiful fall day, glad that we came and truly grateful for all the blessings of our great nation. We needed to be there to get the message that today's young people are aware that sacrifices have been made so that they can live in peace. All of us who have served would hope that they never have to go to war but a world really at peace is a goal yet to be achieved; we must stay prepared to defend our freedom.

The Web Site Is Back

The J. J. Pearce Homeowners Association (JJPHOA) web site is back in operation. You'll find it at www.jjphoa.org. Our new webmaster is updating the site to reflect all the latest information about our Association and our neighborhood. You can go there to find out how to contact the Board members, look for crime watch updates and even enter into bulletin board discussions with others in the neighborhood. The website is just one more way that our Homeowners Association can assist with neighbors helping neighbors.

In the future we will also be exploring ways to notify members of crime watch alerts or other special information through e-mail for those who would like that option.

Wild About Harry's restaurant has made every Tuesday night Mohawk night. They are going to give Mohawk a 10% credit from every order on Tuesday nights (3:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m.) if the person ordering mentions Mohawk. This offer applies to the Richardson location only, 1930 N. Coit Rd. These profits will help to fund the Spring Carnival at Mohawk, which will be held on April 28, 2001

IMPORTANT NEWS FROM LYNN SANDERS, VICE PRESIDENT OF SAFETY

ANOTHER JJP BURGLARY

On Monday, October 23, a burglary was committed in the 1400 block of Huntington. it occurred sometime between 1:45 p.m. and 5:30 p.m. Entry was made by bodily force on the front door which may have had locks that were not fully engaging with the doorframe. No alarm system was in operation. The value of property loss was considerable.

This was the 5th burglary, or burglary attempt in a 5 week period starting October 19. The previous 4 were described in the October newsletter. Entry and loss of property have occurred in 4 of the 5 cases. 3 have involved front door entry, or attempted entry, and 2 have involved rear entry. All have been in the 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. portion of the day. No successful entry has been made where a fully functional deadbolt lock was engaged. In fact, just such a lock thwarted the entry that failed.

The likely scenario on these is someone ringing the doorbell to see if the home is unoccupied before attempting entry. It is recommended that if you get a ring at the door, and then get a weak excuse from the person at the door for why they rang, that you should be suspicious, note the time, as much descriptive information as possible, direction of travel, and then call 911 immediately. The police are aware of the recent problems out here and do not mind responding to such calls. In fact, I am aware that there have been several recent occurrences of police dispatched to our area on "suspicious person " calls. None have yet materialized into arrests, however.

A different, and more ominous, scenario might be indicated by a recent occurrence in the 1100 block of Huntington. The homeowner answered the doorbell and encountered a "salesman" who wanted to come in and demonstrate cleaning supplies. The homeowner said that the man (white, approximately 35 and 5' 6", blonde hair, medium build) appeared very nervous. He was not allowed in. The homeowner did not contact the police until later, and by then the "salesman" had disappeared. This may have been a legitimate salesman, but it is indicative of situations where we should at least be cautious and alert. Similar occurrences of aggressive "salesmen" have recently been noted across Melrose in the Reservation.

BURGLARY PREVENTION

The following are a few common sense steps to significantly reduce your becoming a victim of burglary.

- Have a properly installed/maintained alarm system in operation when you are gone.
- Never leave your garage door open when unoccupied, even if you are inside or in the yard on the other side.
- Keep your windows and doors locked when you are gone; fully functional deadbolt locks are especially effective.

- Keep some lights on; front porch and rear at night; one or two inside lights that can be seen through front windows during the day.
- Keep a little noise (radio) in your house when gone.
- Never let newspapers or mail to accumulate in front of your house.
- Be especially careful to have a fully functional deadbolt front lock if your front door is in a recessed alcove.

Greetings from the VP Beautification Bill Little

I have enjoyed the duties of judging the yards this summer. There have been several excellent choices available each month from each section to be judged. I look for overall grass condition, the look of the shrub beds, and for any additional color items that are added.

The Yard of the Month winners for this year have been:

April judging

1209 Eton	James & Judy Mays
1102 Chesterton	Ewell & Jean Martin
1122 Huntington	Jeff & Susan Quigley
1218 Grassmere	Spud & Kathy Westmoreland
1133 Edith Circle	Alan & LeaAnn Brumelli

May judging

1407 Huntington	Dale & Alma Zadow
1108 Chesterton	Richard & Carol Garrigues
1115 Eton	Jerry & Marilyn Gray
1110 Pueblo	Phil & Susan Conway
1105 Edith Circle	Ray & Donna Kimbrell

June judging

1132 Edith Circle	Allan & Ginny Journey
1217 Huntington	Bob & Nancy Bagwell
1109 Eton	John & Susan Macauley
1125 Grassmere	Doug & Kay Grace
1207 Chesterton	Larry & Virginia Bryant

July judging

1907 Lilac Ct.	Barbara Kuwitzky
1129 Huntington	Bill & Sharon Sharp
1307 Chesterton	Lawrence & Alicia Ragan
1520 N Cheyenne	Robert & Carol Kelly
1120 Stratford	David & Jackie Gibbs

August judging

1906 Violet Place	Gerald & Judy Bush
1410 Huntington	Gerald & Elizabeth Muscha
1121 Chesterton	David & Elizabeth Lammers
1100 Grassmere	Robert Richey & Cissy Holloway
1114 Eton	Ed & Joanne Monaghan

The Holiday judging will be sometime during the week beginning Sunday, December 10. I will post the signs by late Saturday night on the 16th. Last year was very difficult to make a decision as there were so many excellent lighting displays. I hope to be as equally challenged this year also.

WATCH FOR THE SIGNS

All JPHOA homeowners are encouraged to watch for the signs that the HOA deploys to call attention to the JPHOA Information Line (972-545-1776). The appearance of these signs indicate that an updated recorded message of importance to homeowners is available on the Information Line. We have recently added 3 more sites so that all 9 entrances to the JPHOA area will be covered. These sites are:

- Melrose & North Cheyenne
- Mimosa & Senior Way
- Melrose & Mohawk
- Mimosa & Huntington
- East end of Edith Circle
- Mimosa & Grassmere
- West end of Edith Circle
- Huntington & Coit
- Chesterton & Coit

CRIME WATCH HELP NEEDED

If you are interested in serving as a Crime Watch Coordinator or Crime Watch Block Captain, contact Lynn Sanders, JPHO Safety VP, at 972-231-6890. He will be glad to get you involved, and the neighborhood would be the better for it.

Membership Information

This copy of the newsletter is being distributed to all residents of the J. J. Pearce Addition. Our recruiting drive ends this month and future issues will be distributed only to Association members. A new membership directory will be published in December

MEMBERSHIP ENROLLMENT
UPDATE

Membership enrollment for JJPHOA has been open for two months. So far, I have received 258 responses through the mail or hand delivered with the following results from 2001 through November 13th and complete results from 2000.

	2001	2000 (Final)
New Members	256	342
% Total (464)	55.7%	73.7%
Declines	2	0
Duplicate	4	40

Please use the enrollment form to join today. If you are not sure if you joined, please call me at work (817) 640-3597 so that you don't join those four families who sent in payments twice. Leave a message with your name, address, telephone number, and email address. You can e mail me at:

ibarash@americanexcelsior.com

The next step for those of you who have not joined is to have a block captain knock on your door. A Block Captain is your most persistent neighbor. Last year, we knocked on everyone's door. This year so far, we have cut the number of knocks by more than one half by people joining through the mail.

Please join quickly with your $15.00 check made out to J. J. Pearce Homeowners Association, so you can avoid the dreaded knock on the door. When you return your membership form, please answer the questions on the form to reflect your wishes. Please include the names of all adults in your home (no children's names).

There is another way out of the dreaded knock on the door. Write, call, or e mail me if you do not want to join. I am keeping track of rejections. Your rejection hurts, but I live with the pain. Include your name, address, phone number, and e mail address. Your e mail address will get you crime watch information. As you know, you will miss all of the other benefits of the JJPHOA.

Finally, on December 15th, 2000, I will send the final list of paid members to the printer. The printer is going to create the official 2001 red address book for those families who have joined JJPHOA. The distribution will be in late December or early January. Everything in the book including members lists in alpha and street address order, by-laws of the group, officers list, important address lists, and volunteer crime watch people.

My goal is to have 100% participation. I want everyone to either join JJPHOA or reject my plea. If you join after December 15th, you may receive an address book without your name in it. Please don't wait until the last minute.

Holiday Decoration Volunteers

Our annual Holiday Decorations will dress up 130 poles in the JJPHOA area from around Thanksgiving until the New Year's weekend. Individuals as well as families have said "You bet we can help" when we called. We can each help make their job seem more rewarding if when you see them out, slow down or stop long enough to offer a smile, and a THANK YOU, or better yet ask if you can help.
